Daily Itinerary

Day 1 Thursday, June 9

International flights depart for Japan

Day 2 Friday, June 10

Arrival in Japan

Arrive Osaka Kansai or Osaka Itami airport. You will be met and transferred by reserved shuttle to the Royal Park Kyoto Hotel, a well-located hotel convenient to public transport.

Hotel: Royal Park The Kyoto

Meals: None

Day 3 Saturday, June 11

Kyoto

Spend the morning at Daitokuji Zen monastery, for a private experience of the Way of Tea with the abbot of Zuiho-in sub-temple; an introduction to their extensive tea bowl collection and a discussion of how the ceramic history of Japan is so closely tied to the tea ceremony. Afterward, explore more of Daitoku-ji, including visit to Koto-in and Zuiho-in. After a Zen-style vegetarian lunch travel to eastern Kyoto to visit Yakimono gallery for a deeper introduction to Japanese ceramics with our Japanese ceramics expert, Robert Yellin. Afterward you can take an optional walk along the Philosopher's path or a visit to Ginkaku-ji (Silver Pavillion), among other breath-taking sites. Dinner will be on your own this evening after returning to your hotel.

Hotel: Royal Park The Kyoto

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Day 4 Sunday, June 12

Kyoto

Travel via bus to the town of Tamba to start the exploration of ceramics with a visit to the studio and kilns of some local ceramic artists. Tamba ware originated in the Medieval period and is typically a style used for storage jars and vases and it is also famous for its sake bottles. Japanese ceramics expert Rob Yellin will put the artists you are visiting in context so that you will have a deeper appreciation of this type of Yakishime, high-fired unglazed stoneware. After our return to Kyoto we will have a group dinner at a local restaurant.

Hotel: Royal Park The Kyoto

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

Day 5 Monday, June 13

Kyoto

Explore the Gion geisha area and the Kennin-ji monastery and gardens, followed by a walking tour of the nearby Kyoto traditional ceramics district, including the Kiyomizu Rokubei family generational museum, the Kondo Yuzo museum, and a visit to the home of a renowned celadon master. Learn about the 300-year old Ninsei and Kenzan styles. Return to the center of Kyoto to visit a current ceramics exhibition. The rest of today is a free day in Kyoto, where you can adventure out on your own with our suggestions. We may suggest traveling to western Kyoto, to the Arashiyama area, via the local trolley. You can explore Tenryu-ji, one of the oldest gardens in Kyoto, dating from the early 14th century and afterward, walk through one of Kyoto's famous bamboo forests before heading to lunch at a local noodle shop. You may decide to climb through the famous 10,000 bright vermilion torii gates of Fushimi Inari or explore the delicacies on offer at Kyoto's Nishiki Market. Our self-guided instructions provide over a dozen possible days of exploration. Tonight's dinner will be on your own.

Hotel: Royal Park The Kyoto

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Day 6 Tuesday, June 14

Kyoto

Today we head to Okayama prefecture for a visit to the Bizen Pottery Village in Imbe. Travel via Shinkansen (bullet) and local train. Rob will lead us on an exploration of the various tunnel kilns and artists still practicing the centuries old art of creating these unique reddish or brown-colored, unglazed works. We will learn about the six major variations of Bizen ware and how they are created through careful placement of the objects in the kiln.

Hotel: Royal Park The Kyoto

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Day 7 Wednesday, June 15

Kyoto

Early risers may go to an optional temple visit for a full Buddhist service performed by 40 chanting monks, including a fire ceremony. After breakfast, we'll travel to the Nishijin textile district to meet a 5th-generation master of gold leaf. In his beautifully preserved, traditional Kyoto-style merchant house, he will introduce you to his intricate process. Next, travel to the Raku Museum followed by lunch. After breakfast, we'll visit the home and studio of a calligraphy master and performance artist to see him wield his gigantic brush to create a masterpiece-in-the-moment. The rest of the afternoon will be free for exploring Kyoto on your own or make use of a shopping map filled with hand-selected locations.

Hotel: Royal Park The Kyoto

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Day 8 Thursday, June 16

Kyoto

On today's out-of-town excursion by private bus to Shiga prefecture, we will visit the Sagawa Museum of Art, a beautiful contemporary architectural site which has devoted a special underground wing to the spectacular work of 15th generation Raku potter, Raku Kichizaemon IV. We'll enjoy a Japanese bento lunch en route and will visit the studios of a selection of ceramic artists and enjoy kiln tours with commentary provided by Rob Yellin. Return to Kyoto by early evening for dinner on your own.

Hotel: Royal Park The Kyoto

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Day 9 Friday, June 17

Kyoto

Start the day with a visit to a local ceramics master. Followed by a visit to Rengei-ji, an intimate hideaway in northern Kyoto, where the garden harmonizes perfectly with the adjacent mountains. The temple's abbot and his wife will welcome us with whisked green tea served in their tearoom overlooking a babbling brook. Often overlooked, this stunning garden and temple was inspired by architectural genius I.M. Pei. Lunch will be at one of Kyoto's oldest inns where we'll enjoy an ikebana demonstration by a master teacher in the Sogetsu Ikebana school and a showing of specialized ceramic vases. The proprietor of Kyoto's oldest inn and garden, located facing the Takano River, will do a presentation on how the various styles of dishes are used in the presentation of a Japanese Kaiseki meal. We end our day at Shisendo, the Hall of the Poet Hermits, the former home of a samurai which was later converted to a Soto Zen temple. After exploring the highly complex, yet deceptively simple transitional entry area, we enter to find a rustic, sukiya-style home and scroll garden.

Hotel: Royal Park The Kyoto

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Day 10 Saturday, June 18

Kyoto

Today is devoted to a series of visits carefully selected by Rob Yellin to highlight contemporary ceramic artists in the Kyoto area and include a visit to the Kawai Kanjiro house. Lunch will be in a Zen-style vegetarian restaurant set in a lovely old house near Kiyomizu temple. End the day with a farewell group dinner.

Hotel: Royal Park The Kyoto.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

Day 11 Sunday, June 19
